

NKOKA is a training institution with a long term vision of growth and development in a very specialized and technical environment. Their emphasis is on the training of technicians primarily for the ICT sector in South Africa.

Have you been working in the electronics industry for years and would like to earn a level 3 electronic qualification? We are much excited to announce that you can now do this even whilst still working. Please ask your SDF (Skills Development Facilitator) to contact us to find out how.

We don't just claim to be an

IPC Registered Training Centre

we can prove it here <http://www.ipc.org/ContentPage.aspx?pageid=IPC-A-610>